1.3. CURRICULAM ENRICHMENT

1.3.1. INSTITUTE INTEGRATES CROSSCUTTING ISSUES RELEVANT TO PROFESSIONAL ETHICS, GENDER, HUMAN VALUES, ENVIRONMENT AND SUSTAINABILITY IN TRANSACTING CURRICULUM.

Crosscutting issues are one of most important aspects of any institution. Curriculum provided by the Gujarat University and followed by Government Commerce College Naroda integrates cross cutting issues relevant to gender, human values, environment and sustainability leading to a strong value based holistic development of students.

The Electives selected by the college encompasses human values, environment sustainability, social awareness, responsible production and consumption, climate change, good health and well being .

Yoga and Meditation

The course on Yoga and meditation is crucial for college students as it promotes physical and mental well-being, enhancing their ability to manage stress and maintain focus. Regular practice fosters discipline, improves concentration, and boosts overall academic performance. Additionally, it encourages a balanced lifestyle, contributing to personal growth and emotional resilience.

Human Rights

Human rights and ethics are essential for college students as they foster a culture of respect, equality, and justice, promoting a harmonious and inclusive campus environment. Understanding these principles equips students with the moral foundation and critical thinking skills necessary to navigate and address complex social issues responsibly.

NSS

NSS typically stands for "National Service Scheme," which is a voluntary central government program in India aimed at developing student volunteers into productive and socially responsible citizens. It encourages students to engage in meaningful community service activities that address local needs and contribute to the overall development of society. Participation in NSS provides students with opportunities to gain practical knowledge, leadership skills, and a sense of civic responsibility. By working closely with communities and addressing real-world challenges, NSS volunteers contribute to sustainable development goals while also enhancing their personal and professional growth. Overall, NSS plays a crucial role in nurturing a spirit of social service and volunteerism among students, empowering them to become active agents of positive change in their communities and beyond.

Natural Resource Management

The sustainable management of natural resources is crucial for maintaining ecological balance, supporting economic development, and ensuring the well-being of current and future generations. Overexploitation and mismanagement of natural resources can lead to environmental degradation, loss of biodiversity, pollution, and exacerbation of climate change. Natural resources are fundamental to human existence and development, and their responsible stewardship is essential for achieving sustainable development goals and preserving the environment for future generations.

Business Ethics

Ethical business practices are essential to build trust and credibility among customers, employees, investors, and the broader community. Businesses that prioritize ethics are more likely to attract and retain talented employees who share their values, maintain positive relationships with suppliers and partners, and cultivate a loyal customer base. This, in turn, enhances reputation and brand image, which are critical assets in today's competitive marketplace. Ultimately, integrating ethics into business practices is not only morally right but also beneficial for sustainable growth and societal well-being. It ensures that businesses contribute positively to the communities in which they operate, uphold the trust of stakeholders, and strive to make a meaningful impact beyond financial profitability alone.

WTO

The main objectives of the WTO is to promoting free trade, reducing trade barriers such as tariffs and quotas, and resolving trade disputes among its member countries through a rules-based system. WTO promotes economic growth, stability, and prosperity by reducing trade barriers and providing a predictable and transparent framework for international trade relations. Overall, the WTO plays a significant role in shaping global trade policies and practices, influencing the economic fortunes of nations and the livelihoods of billions of people worldwide and thus addressing cross cutting issues such as no poverty, sustainability, responsible production and consumption

Tourism Management

Tourism is a multifaceted industry that impacts economies, societies, and environments globally. When managed sustainably and responsibly, tourism can bring substantial benefits to destinations and contribute to inclusive and sustainable development. However, it is essential to balance the economic benefits with environmental conservation and respect for local cultures to ensure long-term viability and positive outcomes for all stakeholders involved.

Apart from this the college also holds various activities throughout the academic year aimed at sensitizing our students towards gender issues under CWDC Cell sensitizing students about women empowerment, financial independence, women entrepreneurship skill, etc
